RENEWED MOTION TO MODIFY CONDITIONS OF RELEASE

Now comes the defendant in the above-named case and respectfully renews his motion to modify the conditions of his release so that he is not confined to his home at all times (he would remain on a GPS device). As previously stated, the defendant was initially released without this condition, but it was modified because of a new arrest in Dorchester District Court. The police report from bpdnews.com indicates that the police responded to a radio call for a fight and on arrival observed a large crowd that dispersed upon seeing officers. According to that report many of the individuals entered motor vehicles and fled the scene. The defendant was stopped by the police as one of those persons. According to the report another individual, with multiple contusions to his head, was located in the area of the altercation and was identified as being involved in the altercation with the alleged victim.

There was no evidence that the defendant did anything other than leave the area as did the rest of the large crowd. In fact, the alleged victim showed up at the defendant's arraignment date to inform the court that the defendant was not involved and has signed a statement to that effect which is in the possession of defense counsel. The Dorchester District Court case has been continued again do to the covid-19 crisis.

The government objected to the original motion, which now months later has still not been acted on.

Respectfully submitted,
By his attorney,
